US House Resolution calls on FCC to evaluate BPL interference, review rules

Rep Michael Ross, WD5DVR, of Arkansas, has introduced a resolution in the US House of Representatives calling on the FCC to "conduct a full and complete analysis" of radio interference from broadband over power line (BPL). The resolution, H. Res 230, says the Commission should comprehensively evaluate BPL's interference potential incorporating "extensive public review and comment," and--in light of that analysis--to "reconsider and review" its new BPL rules. If approved by the full House, the non-binding resolution, introduced April 21, would express the requests as "the sense of the House of Representatives." The FCC adopted rules to govern so-called Access BPL last October 14 in ET Docket 04-37.

The resolution's prime focus is on BPL's potential to disrupt critical public safety radiocommunication. It cites National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) studies that "have determined that broadband over power line creates a 'high risk' of radio wave interference, and that harmful interference to public safety mobile radio receivers can be expected at distances of 75 meters from the power line where broadband over power line is in operation, and at distances of up to 460 meters from fixed stations, such as VHF police or fire dispatch communications facilities."

The resolution notes that the same NTIA study determined that BPL interference to aeronautical and airline travel communications "could be expected at distances up to 40 kilometers from the center of the broadband over power line system, and that interference to outer marker beacons for airline instrument landing systems could be expected at great distances as well."

Many public safety agencies and support services, including emergency medical services, fire, and law enforcement, utilize Low-Band VHF (30-50 MHz), the resolution points out. Thirteen states--California, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, West Virginia and Wyoming--use the band for state police operations, while it's the primary public safety radio band in nine states.

ARRL President Jim Haynie, W5JBP, has urged ARRL members to contact their US representatives to support the resolution when it reaches the floor of the House. A sample letter is available on the ARRL Web site, although members are encouraged to express their support in their own words. If you're not sure who represents your congressional district, visit the United States House of Representatives Web site.

To expedite delivery, send all correspondence bound for Members of Congress--preferably as an attachment--to hres230@arrl.org or fax it to 703-684-7594. The ARRL will bundle correspondence addressed to each Member of Congress for hand delivery. — Via ARRL Letter Online 4/29/05

President's Corner

Mike Langley, KD4MTT

Last month was a busy one for the Amateur community. Pitt County and BARC was well represented at the statewide ARES meeting in Raleigh. Bernie Nobles, WA4MOK, put on a great program and the room was full of attendees.

The RARSFEST was, let's say, under attended – but still a great opportunity to see friends and pick up a few trinkets. Raffle ticket sales were a little slow, but worth the trip.

The following weekend we participated in the Farmville Dogwood Festival. The Club had great turnout, and many thanks to all of those that participated. Saturday was good, until the rain blew through. The official rain gauge recorded 0.25" in less than 15 minutes. We managed to get everything put away and tied down before the fire service alerted stations to an approaching front. After the storm the traffic was "light" and we called it a day for the special event station.

Sunday proved to be a little slower than Saturday afternoon. At times it looked like we had more people at our station than there were on the midway.

One official remarked that we "were in the right place with our disaster response unit." But hey – we still had a good time, sold some tickets, and had a drawing. When it was over the Club had taken in over $1200 in ticket sales. A good job by all.

Next on our event agenda is Field Day. We have just under two months to plan and prepare for our biggest event of the year. Richard, KG4SNE, and John, KE4TZN, are this years co-chairs. Remember, it is not their job to make Field Day a success – it is "OURS."

Please don't wait to be asked to help. Figure out what you would like to do and VOLUNTEER. Planning, setup, cooking and take down. These are all as important to a successful effort as operating and logging. The event will cover the better part of two days and operating will consume 24 of those hours.

Looking forward to seeing all of you at the next meeting on May 10th. It sounds like the Urban Search And Rescue (USAR) team will be on hand to tell us about what they do.

Mike, KD4MTT

The Brightleaf Amateur Radio Club has just finished another successful fundraiser with the drawing for the So-laire Anywhere Portable Grill. Mike, KD4MTT is asking members to give their input to him for any equipment or accessories that the club might need. Thanks to Mike and all others that sold and bought tickets for the grill. A drawing will be held at the May 10 club meeting for an HT for ticket sellers of 10 or more tickets.

One of the best sellers at the Raleigh hamfest was Sandy Thigpen, K4SMT. She was parting a number of the attendees with their dollar. Quite a number of BARC members were at the hamfest and all seemed to enjoy it very much.

Field Day is approaching very fast and Richard Campbell, KG4SNE, and John Johnson, KE4TZN, are looking for help. They are working together to get the ball rolling.

Congratulation to Richard Cox, KI4CRD, for upgrading to the Amateur Extra Class license at the last BARC VE Session. Also, Jed Stancill from Winterville passed Element 2 for the Technician license. His new call sign, KI4JUH, was granted April 20. Jed also joined the club. Please welcome him to the club.

The BARC roster is in this issue of Ham Chatter. Due to the limitations of 8 pages (or 4 sheets), a couple of pages of news from the ARRL and others had to be cut short. We could use 10 pages if we did not run some color pictures. The machine that prints color uses heavier paper and 5 sheets of the heavy paper weighs over an ounce thereby costing more postage. Thanks to Xerox for doing an outstanding job. - W4YDY

Congressman queries FCC Chair on Amateur Radios BPL concerns

Following the prepared testimony of FCC Chairman Kevin J. Martin before the US House Appropriations Committee April 26, Rep Rodney Alexander of Louisiana raised the topic of broadband over power line (BPL) and how it was hurting the Amateur Radio community. Again acknowledging the concerns of radio amateurs regarding BPL's interference potential, Martin responded that the Commission is aware of the good work that radio amateurs do and that the FCC would attempt to strike a balance with the amateur community with respect to its BPL concerns.

When the FCC unanimously adopted new BPL rules last October, Martin also took note of Amateur Radio's concerns, said he would take them seriously, and expressed confidence that the Commission would take the necessary steps to address interference.

Martin succeeded Michael K. Powell as FCC chairman in March. His Appropriations Committee appearance--his first as FCC chairman--was to discuss the Commission's fiscal year 2006 budget request. - Via ARRL Letter Online 4/29/05
